THE NICARAGUAN CORRESPONDENCE.

The President's Negotiation on the Rivas Government and the War with Costa Rica.

THE MISSIONS OF PARKER H. FRENCH.

PARKER H. FRENCH, ESQ., FOR RECOGNITION,

[illegible] correspondence on [illegible] the balance of that [illegible] Times—will [illegible] greatest interest [illegible] matters contained [illegible] Nicaragua, from the [illegible] of the Rivas-Walker [illegible] exception of Padre Vijil [illegible] in every particular:

[illegible] Mr. Marcy.

[illegible] AMERICAN, NEAR THE [illegible]

[illegible] last steamer, your dispatch [illegible] to the 11th ult. The delay in reaching [illegible] at San Juan del Norte, by which, [illegible] two weeks [illegible] of his, it was delayed two weeks [illegible] received my careful attention. [illegible] Department, Nov. 27, 28 [illegible] have been received and examined, I feel well assured [illegible] a condition of things will be evident [illegible] that no other course could [illegible] Both of the belligerent parties had, by the Treaty [illegible] of the 6th October, (a copy of which you will find in my despatch No. 21,) united in forming a [illegible] the members of which were composed [illegible] of the other officers of both of the parties (the [illegible] legitimate) that distracted this [illegible] President (Don Fernando Rivas) of the [illegible] Junta of the Democratic party—and thus, by uniting both parties, permanent peace was expected, [illegible] the results have proved favorable.

I was certainly informed of this organization of [illegible] under Rivas by the note of the Minister of War (Gen. Corral) of 2d November, [illegible] which I [illegible]

[illegible] as well as the President, are aware that I had no personal or political sympathies with Gen. Walker; that he had no favorable feelings towards me, which indeed here is very evident, from a letter addressed to me by Gen. Walker the 7th of last January, in reply to my letter of the New York Herald, dated San Juan del Sur, 11th September. But personal or political feelings should not influence matters of national importance.

I, however, declined all official communication with the Provisional Government here, and placed my relations on the ground as stated in my note to Gen. Corral, a copy of which is inclosed, marked B. Upon the President informing me that the chief officials were absent, the President expressed the hope that no difficulty would arise to interrupt the diplomatic intercourse of the United States.

Inclosed I do the importance to Americans residing here called for the constant and vigilant exercise of the intelligence of the Minister, (see letter of Mr. Wheeler, agent of the house of Garretson, Kennedy, Rivas & Co., of New-York, inclosed, marked C,) and, in addition to the presence of Mr. Rost in France, in case, and the positive instructions of your Department, (see Mr. Wheeler to Mr. Rives, Wheaton, 87A,) I acted on the circumstances and a sense of duty impelled.

I feel assured, therefore, that the President and Senate, with full knowledge of the facts and history of the case, will justify and approve my course. The recognition which you state constitutes a de facto Government has occurred; as such it was recognized by me; as such it is in the full, peaceful, and proper exercise of all the functions of Government.

By every steamer from California, New-Orleans, and New-York, numbers are flocking here; from these the army of the Government has received constant additions, and the mining, commercial, and agricultural interests capital, enterprise, and labor.

The city was recently visited by the commanding officer of the United States steamer Massachusetts. This officer had lost some men by desertion, as also an American merchant ship lying at San Juan del Sur. Some of these deserters had found their way into the army here. At the time men were needed in the army, but these deserters were promptly given up. Any act of impropriety, much less of guilt or crime, has been promptly punished.

Order has been restored, the whole country is quiet, and 200 acres of land have been taken by settlers. Surveyors are busy in the field making surveys of the unappropriated lands. The gold mines are being worked and are valuable beyond all question, and a contract has been formed to work another portion of them with a Philadelphia Company.

Not a single prisoner for any offence is in confinement in the Republic—a circumstance unknown before in the Government. Recently three steamers were seen at one time in this harbor—a circumstance also unprecedented—and at this time a New-York sail vessel is at another bay, a yacht.

I shall strictly obey all instructions from the President or your Department, as I have always done. But I cannot but regret that, in addition to the perils I have encountered and indignity to my flag, you should have to inform me in relation to my detention at Rivas. "Though the President has no doubt that I noted from the purest motives, intending only to subserve the cause of humanity, but that my course was aside from that which my duty, as the representative of a foreign Government, imposed upon me." I receive this rebuke with proper respect.

If my "course was aside from duty" it had like to have proved of most serious personal consequence.

If "grievous was the fault, grievous has the expiation been;" for imprisonment was the consequence, and my life had nearly paid the forfeit of an intention only to subserve the cause of humanity. My letter to General Corral (a copy of which is inclosed, marked D,) will show the motive which influenced me.

Had I met him at Rivas, I would not have been imprisoned; nor would the murder of Mrs. Smith and child, at San Carlos, or the massacre of unarmed passengers at Virgin Bay ever occurred.

To save the lives of the innocent, the plunder of the unarmed, to secure a peace to a distracted people, were surely motives sufficient to cause my course to stay aside for a moment from the strict line of duty. I encountered willingly the personal risk for such high promptings. Had I succeeded I should have received the heartfelt thanks of every man, woman and child of Nicaragua, and secured that blessing which is promised to the children of God.

I trust and believe that the President will take such a course as will be dictated by a regard to my rights, and feel sure that with his generous sympathies, had he been in my position, that he would have gone further than I did in the cause of humanity.

I inclose you the last newspapers, which will give you all the local news of importance here.

Very respectfully, JOHN H. WHEELER.

REPUBLIC OF NICARAGUA, DEPARTMENT OF WAR, GRANADA, Nov. 2, 1855.

To the Honorable Minister Plenipotentiary of the Republic of the United States of America:

SIR: The Provisional Supreme Executive Power of the Republic has been pleased to issue the following decree:

The Government, in view of the urgent necessity which exists for the organization of the Executive power, and considering that the appointment made of the Licentiate D. Normeno Ramirez as Minister of the Interior and of Foreign Relations may be dilatory and injurious to the public peace in the exercise of its powers, Decrees, 1st. The Licentiate D. Maximo Jerez is appointed Minister of the Interior and of Foreign Relations ad interim.

2d. The Minister of War temporarily in charge of the Department of Relations will communicate the above to the appointee and to those whom it may concern. RIVAS.

GRANADA, Nov. 1, 1855.

And I do myself the honor of communicating the same to Y. E. for your information.

I avail myself of this opportunity to inclose to Y. E. the signature of the appointee, and tender you the assurances with which I am Y. E.'s obedient servant, PONCIANO CORRAL.

MAXIMO JEREZ.

[Inclosure.]

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, NEAR REPUBLIC NICARAGUA, GRANADA, 2d of Nov. 1855.

To Hon. Maximo Jerez, Minister of the Interior and Foreign Relations for the Republic of Nicaragua:

SIR.—I have the honor to acknowledge the official dispatch of Hon. Pionciano Corral, as Minister of War of this date, announcing to me the organization of the Government, and your appointment as Minister of the Interior and Foreign Relations. I sincerely rejoice that peace now reigns in this beautiful country and trust it may be permanent.

I learn from the treaty of peace and other authentic sources that the Prefect (Castillo) and the Military Governor (F. Xatruchi) are retained in command of the Department of Rivas; acting under the authority and enjoying the confidence of the present Provisional Government.

The great outrage offered by these two officials to my character and my flag while at Rivas on the 16th, 16th and 17th ultimo, by detaining me against my will and consent, thus violating all the laws and usages of civilized nations, has been reported to my Government and will be promptly and properly resented by it.

This compels me to decline all other official communings with you until I am assured the authorities of Nicaragua so far respect her own high regard for the rules of national laws, and the comity of nations by promptly withdrawing the insult and countenance from these parties.

The undersigned begs that [illegible] will not regard this note as any mark of personal feeling; but impelled by a just respect to the acknowledged and well defined rights of an Embassador and the respect due to the great nation which he has the honor to represent.

He takes this occasion to assure Señor Jerez of his high consideration [illegible] for him and as he [illegible]

Very sincerely [illegible] JOHN H. WHEELER.

Minister Resident of the United States of America.

A letter from Juan Hindmarsh, agent of the House of Garretson, Kennedy, Rivas, & Co., dated Granada, December 10, 1855, to Solon H. Wheeler, Minister of the United States, stating that he considered the Government on a solid basis, and a substantial peace restored in Nicaragua, and deemed it very important for the interest of the Americans in Nicaragua that the Minister of the United States should be recognized by the Government.

PARKER H. FRENCH.

To Hon. [illegible] Secretary of State, [illegible] United States, Washington, D. C.

SIR.—I [illegible] the Supreme Government of Nicaragua, appointing me as the Minister of that Republic, near the Government of Washington, and accompanying this you will please find an autograph letter from the President of Nicaragua to the President of the United States of America. The object of this note is to request an interview with your Excellency before laying my credentials before your Government; and in granting it at an early hour, I have no hesitation in saying that you are advancing the best interests of our respective countries. I am, Sir, with respectful consideration, your obedient servant,

PARKER H. FRENCH.

(Inclosure, a certified copy of commission.)

Mr. Marcy to Parker H. French.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Dec. 21, 1855.

To Parker H. French, Esquire, Washington:

SIR: Your letter to me of the 19th instant, with the inclosed copy of "an autograph letter from the President of Nicaragua to the President of the United States of America," has been received and laid before the President. I am directed by him to reply to your communication, that he has not yet seen reason for establishing diplomatic intercourse with the persons who now claim to exercise the political power in the State of Nicaragua.

Those who were chiefly instrumental in suspending or overthrowing the former Government of that State were not citizens belonging to it, nor have these citizens or any considerable part of them, so far as is known here, expressed their approval of, or acquiescence in, the present condition of the political affairs of Nicaragua. Until such shall appear to be the case, the President does not deem it proper to receive you, or any one, as Minister to this Government, duly appointed by the Supreme Government of Nicaragua. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

W. L. MARCY.

Mr. Wheeler to Mr. Marcy.

(Extracts.)

LEGATION OF THE U. S. NEAR THE REPUBLIC OF NICARAGUA, GRANADA, 30th Dec., 1855.

To Hon. Wm. L. Marcy, Secretary of State of the U. S., Washington City.

SIR: The United States frigate Potomac arrived at San Juan Del Norte, on the 21st inst.

On the 22d inst., Commodore Paulding dispatched Surgeon Thomas Dillard, Fleet Surgeon of the Home Squadron, to visit me with dispatches, requesting the facts as regards the recent outrages committed on our citizens who were passengers on the steamers of the Transit Company, and I have forwarded by Dr. Dillard copies of the papers on file in the Archives of this Legation, which will fully apprise him of all the facts in relation to a matter which has occasioned so much concern to our Government. The officer who ordered the attack at San Carlos, Captain, as well as the officer in command at Virgin Bay, (Capt. Frances Gutierrez,) have fled to Guanacaste or Costa Rica, and it may be necessary that the Navy Department should know this, in order to take such steps as may be necessary.

* * * * * * *

I have the honor to be your faithful servant, JNO. H. WHEELER.

Mr. Marcy to Mr. Wheeler.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1856.

To Jno. H. Wheeler, Esq., &c.

SIR: It is very important that this Government should have the most accurate information in regard to the actual political condition of the State of Nicaragua. The accounts which have been sent on here are conflicting. While some of them represent that the present political organization is satisfactory to the people of that State, others represent that it has no foundation in the hearts of the people, who would very generally shake off the power of Walker if it were possible for them to do so, and that letter is its sole foundation. Your situation is favorable to the acquisition of a correct knowledge of the internal affairs of that country.

Your dispatches, of which No. 21 is the last received, have not gone so much into detail as is desired. It is reported here, not, however, on very reliable authority, that Estrada is exercising the authority of President in some parts of the State of Nicaragua, and that the other Central American States are confederating against the Government of which Rivas is the nominal, but Walker the real head. I hope to hear from you soon, and to be furnished with the full account of affairs in Nicaragua.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant, W. L. MARCY.

Mr. Wheeler to Mr. Marcy.

LEGATION OF UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, NEAR REPUBLIC OF NICARAGUA, GRANADA, 15th January, 1856.

To Hon. Wm. L. Marcy, Secretary of State of the United States, Washington City.

SIR: The actual condition of affairs in this Republic is the same as when I last wrote. The whole country is quiet, and for the first time for many years Nicaragua enjoys profound peace.

You will observe from the inclosed newspaper the resignation of Gen. Maximo Jerez as Minister of Relations, and the reasons given for his course, which, although very honorable, cannot be judged at this time wise. To engage in another war with Honduras, as he desired, for the purpose of reinstating Cabanas in power, would not meet the approval of judicious men. This Republic is too much exhausted by the late intestine war, again to engage in another so soon. That the Minister of Relations wished this, and that it was not conceded by the President and, his colleagues in the Cabinet, he resigned—but in a perfect good feeling towards his associate who could not agree with him in a question of policy. As I informed you in my last (No. 37) Com. Paulding dispatched the fleet surgeon with dispatches for this legation. At the Commodore's request, and a sense of duty, I visited San Juan Del Norte, and conferred freely with him relative to various matters, one of which was a homicide at Castillo. I inclose a copy of the communication made by Gen. Walker relative to the same, and Commodore Paulding's reply, (AB.) I beg leave to report a fact somewhat significant as to the feelings of the English at San Juan del Norte. Commander Ogle, of H. B. M. sloop-of-war Arab, called upon me while on board of the Potomac, and during the conversation he stated that "he should be happy to see me on board of his ship as a private individual, but not as a Minister of the United States, as he could not extend the salute due to me, since I was not then in the country to which I was accredited." Of course the visit was declined.

I have the honor to be very respectfully,

Your faithful servant, JNO. H. WHEELER.

Here follows a letter from Gen. Walker to Mr. Wheeler relative to the shooting of Clark, a sailor at Castillo—one of the crew of the United States frigate Potomac. He notifies Mr. Wheeler of his intention to institute legal proceedings against the parties involved in the affair.

Then follows a communication from Commodore Paulding to Mr. Wheeler, concurring in the action of Gen. Walker with regard to the shooting of Clark.

A letter is given from Parker H. French to Mr. Marcy, dated the 18th January, 1856, expressing surprise at the letter he had received from the Secretary of State, declining to receive the said French as the Minister of Nicaragua. French, after arguing the matter a little, wishes Mr. Marcy not to consider his application to be received before him for the present.

Several letters follow from Minister Wheeler, protesting the firm establishment of the Walker Government, and its popularity among all classes of the people.

A letter from Mr. Hire, United States Consul at San José, to Mr. Marcy, under date of 9th March, incloses a copy of a communication from the Minister of Foreign Relations of Costa Rica, notifying him that in consequence of the Transit Company's steamers having been used for the transportation of the bandits who have usurped possession of Nicaragua, the transit of the said steamers upon the river and lake of San Juan and Nicaragua will be suspended during the continuance of the hostilities. Mr. Hire expresses fears that American citizens will suffer seriously from the contemplated proceedings of the Costa Rican Government, and asks for instructions.

Mr. Marcy, under date of April 11, 1856, answers thus:

* * * The proceedings of the Costa Rican Government with reference to Nicaragua, and especially the decree against the Transit Company, of which an extract is given in number 1, are to be regretted. If that decree should be carried into effect against the steamers of the Company, or the passengers on board of them, such a proceeding might give rise to serious questions between this Government and that of Costa Rica, for although the right of the latter Government to jurisdiction over the right bank of the River San Juan, from the sea to the mouth of the Sarapiqui, may be good, this right, if admitted, is limited in the river itself to the middle of the stream. The claim of that Government, therefore, to stop to the transit of steamers on the river cannot be acknowledged. It was to have been hoped that Costa Rica would have maintained a strictly defensive attitude in respect to Nicaragua. Inasmuch, however, as she has thought proper to decide otherwise, it is expected that, in waging hostilities against Nicaragua, her authorities will not lose sight of moderation, and will avoid trenching upon the rights of neutrals who may be proceeding to Nicaragua for peaceful purposes, or with a view to move transit between Oregon and California and the Atlantic States of the Union. You are authorized and expected to make these expectations known to the Costa Rican Government, and will so inform that Government.

Although some persons claiming to be citizens of the United States may be engaged in hostilities against Costa Rica, and may have committed a misdemeanor in leaving their own country for that purpose, it is expected that the laws of honorable warfare in regard to them will be observed in case they should be taken prisoners. If, however, they should be shot as you say is the purpose of the Costa Rican Government, a proceeding which would be received with indignation by the Government of the United States, and would certainly occasion more or less of a resentment in this country, which might tend to disturb our amicable relations with that Republic."

* * * * * * *

I am, sir, respectfully your obd't serv't, W. L. MARCY.

Minister Wheeler, under date of 31st of March, says:

"By a decree also of the Supreme Government, dated the 19th instant, Primary Elections are ordered under the Constitution, in the several districts, by the people, to elect a Supreme Director, Senators and Members of Congress. Election to be held on the second Sunday (18th) of April next. The Congress is directed to meet at Managua on the 20th of May next. * * *

I hail this first act of the new Cabinet as one of great propriety—one which I have advocated, as it will freely express popular approval or disapproval of the present condition of political affairs in Nicaragua.

This State is now daily receiving acquisitions of men of property, talent and enterprise. The interference of English arms and gold may for a moment retard their success.

I have the honor to be very respectfully, Your faithful servant, JOHN H. WHEELER, Minister Resident.

Mr. Wheeler to Mr. Marcy.

LEGATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, NEAR THE REPUBLIC OF NICARAGUA, GRANADA, 17th of April, 1856.

Hon. W. L. Marcy, Secretary of State, &c.:

SIR: In order to keep my Government well advised of the actual condition of affairs in this country, I regret to inform the Department that the war still rages between this Government and Costa Rica.

I inclose, marked A, an official bulletin of "Jose R. Mora, President of the Republic of Costa Rica, General-in-Chief of the army marching to Nicaragua," declaring death to all filibusters; and on said bulletin is a list of prisoners taken on the 25th ult.

A bloody battle between the two contending forces occurred at Rivas on the 11th inst.

The President of Costa Rica, with Baron Bulow, commanded about 2,000 men, strongly fortified. These were attacked by the forces of Nicaragua, commanded by General Walker, with about 300 American rifles, and four hundred and fifty native troops. The battle lasted seventeen hours, when the Costa Rican Army left the place, losing their cannon and leaving their dead and wounded—from 300 to 500 of their troops. The loss of Nicaragua was also severe.

I regret that the conduct of the forces of Costa Rica is such as violates every rule of civilized warfare; that without mercy they fall upon unarmed American citizens, and murder them without discrimination. (See affidavits of Chas. Mahoney, of Aaron B. Cooley, and the statement of Judge Cushing.)

As matters stand, it is doubtful whether any American of any character is safe if he should fall into their hands. Their conduct places them beyond the pale of civilization, and they do not deserve the name or reputation of a Government.

Such conduct induced me to send my flag with a special messenger to the President of Costa Rica, with copies of the testimony taken in the case, (which may be implicitly relied on,) and a letter from me in Spanish and English, a copy of which I inclose, marked G.

I hope that the tenor of this letter will meet the approbation of the Department. * * *

I am happy to say, from authentic information, that the rest of the States of Central America will not aid Costa Rica in this war. The Commissioners sent by Nicaragua to San Salvador, Honduras and Guatemala, have been well received, and assurances of neutrality have been given by them. But no confidence can be placed in these people: if Costa Rica should gain any decided advantage, (which is an event I do not anticipate,) they would aid her.

If my report be believed, I would recommend the immediate dismissal of Mr. Molina, as representing a Government unworthy to be classed among civilized nations.

I learn, incidentally, that the President and Cabinet have appointed Señor Augustin Vijil, a distinguished ornament of the Church, of great learning and virtue—a native of this place—as Minister Plenipotentiary to the United States. I have known him ever since I have been in this country, and doubt not that he will make a faithful representative of his nation, and an acceptable member of the diplomatic corps.

As the direct communication is suspended between New York and San Juan del Norte for the present, be so good as to instruct the Dispatch Agent at New York to forward all matter for this Legation to Aspinwall, care of United States Consul, and thence to San Juan del Norte, care of the United States Commercial Agent.

Your last dispatch is No. 36, 18 and 19 missing; as also any sent since No. 20.

I have the honor, &c., JNO. H. WHEELER.

President Rivas to President Pierce.

[Translation.]

To the Honorable the President of the United States of North America:

MY GREAT AND GOOD FRIEND: I am desirous to cultivate with the Government of Your Excellency the friendly relations that the people of Nicaragua is called upon to maintain with the Government of the Great Northern Republic over the destinies of which your Excellency is now presiding. I have, therefore, thought fit to accredit, as the Minister Plenipotentiary and Envoy Extraordinary of this Republic near the Government of Your Excellency, Rev. Licentiate Don Augustin Vijil, a reliable person on account of his knowledge of public affairs, and of his patriotic feelings, to the end that with that character he may enter into treaties of alliance, friendship and commerce with the Government of Your Excellency, and devote himself to the other objects of his mission.

I hope that Your Excellency will deign to admit kindly the said Minister Plenipotentiary and Extraordinary Envoy, and believe everything he may propose in his official capacity.

I pray Your Excellency will accept my wishes for your happiness and prosperity and the prosperity of the great people under your Government.

Given in the city of Leon, in the Government House, on the 17th day of April, in the year of our Lord 1856. PATRICIO RIVAS. (L. S.)

The Secretary of Foreign Affairs, SEBASTIAN SALINAS.

Don Augustin Vijil to Mr. Marcy.

[Translation.]

WASHINGTON CITY, May 14, 1856.

To his Excellency, William L. Marcy, Secretary of State of the United States of America:

SIR: The unhappy situation of the country in which I was born, and the desire of exerting my best efforts to relieve it, have led me to leave my native shores to come to represent its interests in the Capitol of this blessed Republic. In your Excellency's reply declining to receive a former Envoy sent by my Government, you say:

"Those who were chiefly interested in surprising or overthrowing the former Government of that State, were not citizens belonging to it, nor have those citizens, or any considerable part of them, so far as is now known here, freely expressed their approval of, or acquiescence in, the present condition of political affairs in Nicaragua."

If Your Excellency is not already disabused on this subject, I trust the explanation I now have the honor to make, will place the affairs of Nicaragua in such a light as to induce you to view our circumstances in their true position. Nicaragua, more than ever since her history began, for the last three years, has been bleeding at every pore. The inauguration of Don Fruto Chamorro, as the Director of Nicaragua, was the commencement of the storm; shortly after it he began to show his tendency to despotism, and, usurping the sacred rights of the people who had elected him, he commenced to form the chain of their misfortunes.

Fearing, however, a few citizens who had the interests and liberty of their country at heart, he adopted a course calculated to render their patriotism, useless, by commencing criminal proceedings against them. The greater part of these men were liberal members of the constituent assembly which had convoked for April, 1854, and possessed too much integrity to vote away the liberty of the Republic. Among them were Don Francisco Castellon, and General Jerez; the former a well known upright and influential patriotic citizen, a man of liberal views, of a superior education, and a correct knowledge of the world that he had acquired during a long residence at different courts of Europe; the latter is also of similar character, views and experience. These and other patriots Chamorro imprisoned, and banished subsequently to Honduras. General Jerez, at the head of a few courageous men, returned to Nicaragua; and at Chinandega, the first large town near the borders of Honduras, he organized a Provisional Government. The popular masses joined him freely, they having become alarmed at the proceedings of Chamorro. The forces of the Provisional Government marched to Leon, where Chamorro had his camp; and as soon as both armies met the whole Chamorro force came over to General Jerez. Chamorro then took refuge in the city of Granada, and by sacrificing the wealthy portion of the population he assembled together a force of one thousand men, to stand a siege of nine months in the Plaza—during which time a large portion of this beautiful city was completely destroyed. The Provisional Government was compelled to raise the siege, and invited American citizens to lend their aid to it. Ninety of them responded to the invitation and became naturalized citizens of the State.

Shortly after Chamorro died and the Constituent Assembly, proceeding on the very Constitution and Charter of Chamorro, but a few days before, arrogated to themselves the ordinary legislative power, and appointed Don Jose Maria Estrada as the successor of Chamorro, whose footsteps he began to follow. This is the style of Government which has been styled legitimate, and which was not and could not be so according to the Constitution of that State, because Chamorro's term of office having expired, only the people of Nicaragua, represented by the Justas of the Departments, and never the Assembly, ought to have appointed the successor. With the assistance of our brave allies things were soon changed, and our forces took possession of the city of Granada on the 13th of October, 1855. At this time the Americans in the service of Nicaragua did not number more than 150 men, commanded by General William Walker.

And what was the conduct of those who overthrew the Government of Estrada? They used every effort, and successfully, to restore and maintain order, to protect the persons and property of the citizens; to gather up the elements which war and revolutions had scattered abroad, and to frame them into a new constitution and peace. They invited Gen. Corral, the chief of the hostile forces, to a conference, and the latter being fully authorized by the Government that styled itself legitimate, they agreed to appoint a Provisional Chief, for which office Don Patricio Rivas was selected, and that Gen. Walker should be the General-in-Chief of the whole military force of the Republic. It is impossible, Sir, to describe the enthusiasm that prevailed on that day. Two armies that were hostile to each other the day before, became merged into one, and the two Generals marched arm in arm to the House of the God of Peace, to celebrate the blessed day of their reconciliation.

By virtue of said treaty, Hon. Don Patricio Rivas took possession of his office, and his election was approved of by the general voice in Nicaragua. His first step was to address a peaceful and friendly invitation to the Chiefs of the Central American Republics. The Government of Guatemala deigned not to give an answer. The Salvadores manifested a disposition to form friendly relations. Honduras recognized the new administration, but Costa Rica declared a horrible war of extermination against it. Thus situated, my Government desires to maintain, by diplomatic intercourse, the good fellowship that always united Nicaragua to this great Republic on every ground, and especially because the great highway between the two Oceans, that is equally interesting to those States and to Nicaragua, is embraced within the border of the latter. Born and educated in Nicaragua, and now for the first time a visitor to the shores of this great Republic, I have a right both to speak about the facts which have marked our past, and to anticipate the happiness that we may expect in the future, as well for my own country as for these great States.

Your Excellency may be positively certain that during the seven months of President Rivas' administration there has been no attempt at revolution against him, and that the whole people of Nicaragua form a united family prepared to maintain order at home, and to resist foreign aggression. That my Government has obeyed the instructions of the country has been latterly manifested by calling the people to elect the Supreme authorities of the country, which election began on the second Sunday of April last, and if the balloting has not taken place in the Oriental and Southern Departments, it was because of the hostile invasion of the Costa Ricans.

I have come to your country with the official character of the representative of Hon. Patricio Rivas, the Chief Magistrate of the Republic of Nicaragua, and I hope, for the interest of both countries, that I shall be esteemed worthy to represent, near this Government, that Republic, and that I shall find here a Government friendly to our peace, prosperity, and permanence. I have the honor to be, with the greatest respect,

Your obedient Servant, AUGUSTIN VIJIL.

INTERESTING FROM KANSAS.

Southern Emigration—Major Buford's Company in a Strait—Their Threats Against Abolitionists—Contrast Between Them and the New-Haven Company—Singular Proceedings of the Grand Jury at Lecompton—Free-State Men to be Indicted for Treason.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Thursday, May 8, 1856.

The movements of the party of emigrants from the South, known generally as "Buford's Company," have been watched very closely of late, or since their landing at Kansas City. At the time they landed a little meeting was held, at which speeches were made, declaring the purposes of their mission. One gentleman waxed vociferous and exclaimed, "We have sworn to make Kansas a Slave State and wipe out Abolitionism. If we cannot do it fairly, we shall by force of arms. If we cannot do it by Sharpe's rifles, we will do it with pistols. If we cannot do it with pistols and scabbards, we will do it with the Southern bowie-knife!" This was the general tone of their proceedings—vindictive, coarse and rowdyish. They lounged about for a few days, and began to grow dissatisfied with Major Buford, saying that he held out inducements of a character widely different from what they now found true, after learning the true character of the country and people. Bills accumulated at the hotels, and Buford suspended payment in part, in consequence of which they were driven to the stern necessity of providing for "an emergency." Dr. Steinpfellow and others came to the rescue, and in one Sunday raised, by contribution, $500 for their relief. When Major Buford was addressing his Company one day, he used the language that "They must root, pig, or die now," as he was short money. It is supposed that the expenses have exceeded his first calculations, that his means were exhausted, and he was compelled to see his men turn beggars.

How different the general character given to a community or country by the presence of such men from that impetus inspired by such a band as the New-Haven party. Buford's company, while at Kansas City and its vicinity, were a tax of several hundred dollars upon the people, while the New-Haven party, of less than one-half their number, paid out in St. Louis for groceries, provisions, farming and culinary utensils, &c., over six thousand dollars, and at Kansas City some four thousand dollars more—making in all over ten thousand dollars paid into the lap of Missouri by one party alone. I have only to add that I disapprove the policy in any party of paying to Missouri so liberally for articles that can be bought in Lawrence quite as cheap, adding the cost of freights.

This Buford party have moved slowly along into the country, in detached companies of from ten to fifty each, and all seem to be gathering around Lecompton. Yesterday there were about one hundred there. Some were drunk—some fighting—some hunting for some d—d Abolitionist, offering fifty dollars to see one—and some were demurring their Kansas adventure, and gave vent to their heartagony by repeating "O carry me back to ole Virginny." What they purpose to do with us is not yet understood, but it is believed that they are held as a reserve force for whatever outbreak may be provoked by the tyrants that now beset us.

To-day has been rich in Kansas scenes. This morning I was subpoenaed to appear immediately before the Grand Jury at Lecompton—for what, I could not divine. At first, I undertook to reason upon the ground that I would not go, as I openly detest and spit upon their entire code of jurisprudence, but knowing that an attachment would be served upon me at once for contempt of Court, if I refused, I chose, for the sake of lessening the vexation, without acknowledging the right, to obey the summons. I appeared there this afternoon, and was before them about two hours. It is useless to attempt a description of the scene. I was quizzed concerning all that multitude of sins over committed by the Free-State Party. A mere outline of the ground passed over in my examination, was,—what I knew of the meeting held in Lawrence the Saturday evening before Jones was shot? what Reeder and Robinson said at that time, concerning their congratulations that so many had come to fight the battles of the Free-State Party? what number of military companies were organized in Lawrence? who were their commanders? who gave commissions to the commanders? what rank was given Robinson and Lane last Winter, and how they got their commissions? whether we had any professed object, besides to oppose Gov. Shannon's forces upon the Wakarusa? whether I could name those who officiated as Judges of the Election when Reeder was voted for last October? what was the origin and professed power of the Executive Committee of Kansas Territory? who they were and where they resided? who were the officers of the pretended State Government? whether I had seen any of them sworn, and what was the character of the oath administered? what acts had they subsequently performed, officially, under that oath? where they all lived, and were they now in the Territory? who I recognized as the Governor of the land? whether I would submit to an arrest made by a Sheriff under the Territorial laws? what I knew of secret societies, organized for the purpose of resisting the laws? what I knew of Emigrant Aid Societies? how many Sharpe's rifles I had ever seen at one place? where they were kept? how the boxes were usually marked in which they came? how the military companies obtained them? where was the arsenal in Lawrence? how many cannon I had seen in Lawrence, and where they were kept? whether the basement of the Emigrant Aid Hotel was used for that purpose, and for the secretion of prisoners? who sent out all the emigrants who came from the Free-States this season? what I saw of the affair when Jones attempted to make his several arrests? who that Man had any of our business houses received licenses? what were the names of the members of the Legislature? and enough more of a similar character to use up two hours.

This shows "what is up," without disguise, and to learn that was one object in my going before them. I am now well satisfied that the great battle of Freedom is at hand. They will proceed first to take all of our prominent Free-State men for treason, and thus materially weaken our influence and seek our ambition, by detaining them in prison, if possible, until they are liberated by friends from the States, by force. I believe, further, that they expect to, and will, frighten a large number of our good citizens to leave, rather than be made the subjects of their inquisition. They are determined thus to perplex, tantalize, persecute and assassinate us, till they hope to tire us out by their vexations and tyranny. Even the poor Hottentot is not so morally lost to all regard for civil justice as are our inhuman oppressors.

On my return to-day, I found U. S. Deputy Marshal Vail in town, with his posse, with an attachment for Gov. Reeder. The Marshal found him at the room of the Executive Committee, attending to his duties. He told Reeder of his purpose, who at once appealed to the Committee for protection. Howard and Sherman were strong in their opinion that Reeder was exempt from an arrest, as much as any Member of Congress. Oliver differed somewhat, when Reeder expressed his views very forcibly and much to the gratification of the bystanders; he said he wished to have it known to all present and to the world, that he would obey no summons from such a source, and that if the Marshal, or any man, put their hands on him, they would do it at their peril; the Marshal declined and returned to Lecompton, and we expect he will avail himself of a larger force to-morrow.

Great excitement prevails in town, and we hold a war council to-night, in which Reeder, Robinson, Howard and others join us. We have a strong guard out, and know not what an hour may bring forth.

RANDOLPH.

Threats Against Gov. Reeder's Life—He Refuses to go to Lecompton—Departure of Gov. Robinson—Imminence of Civil War.

Special Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Times.

LAWRENCE, K. T., Friday, May 9, 1856.

It is well known to us that the peculiar hatred towards Reeder by the Pro-Slavery ranters is because he is rendering such valuable service before the Committee, and fills there a place that no other man can fill. It has been the most common occurence for days past to hear from several sources, by private messengers and otherwise, of the most vehement threats against the life of both Reeder and Robinson. They feel that they are unsafe for a moment, beyond the protection of their friends. They seem to believe at Lecompton that these men have had much to do in fanning the flame of our difficulties, and that if they can be destroyed, an easy victory is theirs. This was one strong reason urged by Reeder against being taken to Lecompton; for we all know his life would be but the trembling leaf before the current of their enraged and passionate persecution. Taking this view of the subject, Governor Reeder this morning addressed a very courteous note to Judge Lecompte and Gov. Shannon, jointly, saying that he still believed he was correct in his position taken when the Marshal was here; but he would waive his question of privilege, and stated that he was ready to go to Lecompton in obedience to the summons, provided they would guarantee him protection on the way and while there, and be allowed to be examined and return immediately to his duties before the Committee. To this an answer was received this afternoon from Gov. Shannon; but Judge Lecompte stated to the messenger that he had no answer to give. Shannon's reply was distant and unsatisfactory, in which he said he could not believe that there was the least danger in his coming there, any more than in Lawrence, &c. Reeder has, of course, resolved never to go there alive under such circumstances; and it will not be strange if you hear in my next that he has left the country for his personal safety, and, of course, his services are lost before the Committee. The thing may be carried still further, and break up the whole Commission, and oblige them to leave before completing their report. Nothing would suit Whitfield & Co. so well as that.

You will be convinced that this is not an ignis fatuus when I inform you that even the cool and daring Robinson has left Kansas to-day, and fled to the East, to avoid arrest, imprisonment, and, perhaps—yes, probably, death. He has gone to sound the alarm, and call the nation to our aid. I can see nothing but revolution in the future—civil war to us—and disunion to the nation. I am not ashamed to declare it, that disunion is a thousand times preferable to the insolent despotism under which we are already bleeding. God only knows the end, if our friends are not true now to their life-long professions. Without your aid, we are martyrs, and you can expect no milder cognomen than Apocrites and cowards. I fear you misjudge our strength, owing to the babbles newspaper writers have blown of late concerning the arms sent us from the East. I know nothing of how many rifles have been bought, but now one has been received here yet this season, except those brought as the private property of emigrants bringing one each, and none for us. We are not half armed, and you, not Missouri, ought to know it. I am weary with writing and care; when shall I be less? RANDOLPH.

Opening of the United States District Court at Lecompton.

From the Lecompton Union, May 8.

The United States District Court, for the First District, Kansas Territory, began its session in this city, on last Monday, at 11 o'clock,—Judge Lecompte presiding. We were present when the Judge charged the Grand Jury. His charge was full, forcible and explicit, covering the entire ground.

It requires no little nerve, on the part of a Judge, in these exciting times of ours, to impress upon the minds of the Grand Jury their responsible duties.

Judge Lecompte knew his duty, and, as an able, fearless and resolute jurist, he discharged that duty. He called the attention of the Jury to the rebellious and treasonable spirit now prevalent in our Territory, and referred to the foul assassination of a public officer, while in the discharge of his official functions. He spoke of the attempt on the part of men here to establish an independent Government, in opposition to the present existing one—also to assume offices of public trust, without due authority, and many other criminal offences committed in our midst. He told them that it was their duty, as law-loving and law-abiding citizens, made imperative by a solemn oath, to arraign these men before the recognized tribunals of the country, and make them suffer the just penalties of the law. He told them to examine evidence in order to sustain them, and in all cases the guilty should be punished without regard to station, influence, threats or menaces. He judged them that in any and all cases, where such

Resolved, That the Assembly approve of the action taken by the Board in regard to the setting apart a fund for the education of children of Indian descent who may be found in the Territory of Nebraska; and that the Committee on Indian Affairs be instructed to recommend increased contributions on the part of the wealthy members of the Church to the same fund.

Also, in connection with the above resolutions, the Committee would direct the attention of the Assembly to the fact that notwithstanding the recommendation of the last General Assembly, the Fund for the support of the endowments of Professorships in the Theological Seminary of the Wisconsin Charge, is still inoperative by about $7,000, very little having been contributed for that object during the past year.

Rev. Dr. Gibson, Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, presented the 19th annual report of the Board. The receipts of the past year were $196,564, to which add balance from previous year, $87, and unexpended balance moneys received from sale of Omaha Reservation, specially appropriated to Indian Missions, $5,397, and the aggregate is $201,952. Expenditures, $204,505. Balance, $48 96. The sum of $8,750 has also been received to form a Fund, of which the interest only is to be appropriated in aid of the support and education of the children of missionaries; and the further sum of $1,500, for the same object, but not subject to the condition of expending only the interest.

The Treasurer received in preceding years the sum of $13,613 96, for the endowment of professorships in the Theological Seminary among the Waldenses; and for the same object during the last year the sum of $467 37, making the whole amount now $18,101 96. It will be remembered that according to the recommendation of the General Assembly in 1855, this Fund should be increased to $20,000; and the interest thereof is to be paid annually in aid of its important object. It is earnestly to be desired that this Fund should be speedily completed.

Donations of clothing for the Mission Schools among the Indians and in Africa, have been received from the ladies of some of the Churches. These have been of much value, and a still larger supply could be usefully appropriated in this way.

As to publications, the same number of pages as in former years has been accounted by the Board in the Home and Foreign Record, of which the Board of Publication will report the number of copies issued and the receipts and expenses.

Of the Foreign Missionary, 18,000 copies were published in newspaper and 2,000 in pamphlet form. Of the pamphlet edition about 2,500 copies are sent free to ministers and to donors of $10 and upwards.

Of the last Annual Report 3,500 copies were published in a pamphlet form, and 16,500 copies in a newspaper form as an extra number of the Record.

From the Presbyterian Board of Publication, the American Bible Society, and the American Tract Society, donations of their respective publications have been received for the use of some of the Missions and Schools.

The following missionaries and assistant-missionaries have been sent out:

To North India—Rev. Albert O. Johnson and his wife, Rev. William Calderwood and his wife, Rev. David Herron, Rev. Isador Loewenthal, Miss Mary L. Browning.

To Siam—Rev. Samuel R. House, M. D., and his wife, Rev. Andrew B. Morse and his wife.

To China—Rev. Joseph W. Wight.

To Africa—Rev. David A. Wilson and his wife, Mr. John White and his wife, Rev. James L. Mackey and his wife, Rev. Cornelius De Hart and his wife, Miss Carrie Kaufman.

To New-Granada—Rev. Henry R. Pratt.

To the Cayenne Mission—Rev. Hugh W. Guthrie.

To the Kickapoo Mission—Rev. William H. Honnell and his wife, Mr. Henry W. Honnell and his wife, Elijah Hubbard and his wife.

To the Otoe Mission—Mr. Benjamin Lowe.

To the Seminole Mission—Rev. James Ross Ramsey, Miss Eliza Adley, Miss Margaret Lilley.

To the Choctaw Mission—Rev. Charlton H. Wilson and his wife, Miss Esther Machen, Miss Flora Lee, Miss S. E. Barber, Miss Clara Eddy.

To the Chocktaw Mission—Rev. Edward Eells and his wife, Rev. Hamilton Galenine and his wife, Mr. Charles Mitchell, Miss Harriet N. Mitchell, Miss Jane S. Hollingworth, Miss S. M. Denny. Total, 29.

The following is a summary view of the Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church, May 1, 1856:

Indian Missions, 8; stations, 15; American ministers, 11; teachers, 7; communicants, 1,000; scholars, 311.

India Missions, 2; stations, 15; American ministers, 27; teachers, 63; communicants, 290; scholars, 1,638.

Siam Mission, 1; ministers, 2; teachers, 4; scholars, 28.

China Missions, 2; stations, 6; American ministers, 18; teachers, 22; communicants, 44; scholars, 146.

Jews' Missions, 1; American minister, 1.

Romanists—Stations in France, Belgium, Buenos Ayres and Bogota.

Total—Missions, 21; American ministers employed, 64; teachers, 176; communicants, 1,374; scholars, 4,449.

The report lays great stress upon the work to be accomplished among the Indians. The Board reports 180 conversions during the year. Appeals are made to the churches for liberal and enlarged contributions.

NORTHERN AND NORTHWESTERN INDIANS.—Among the Chippewas and Pillages there are about 1,500 members, and 3,000 aborigines are under Christian care. The Iowa Missions were visited by the Senior Secretary in the Summer of 1855. The Omahas are about to return to their reservation. The Otoes in Nebraska number 700 persons, and have 100 children at school. The Senior Secretary also visited the Kickapoos. Among the Southwestern Indians, the Board is laboring among the Creeks, Seminoles, Chickasaws and Choctaws.

MISSIONS IN AFRICA.—Of the Liberia Mission the report says: Mr. Hanford has continued his labors in connection with the church at Monrovia. 80 persons have been received to its communion during the year, making the whole number of church members at the present time fifty-four. A Sabbath school of fifty scholars has been carried on in connection with the church. The English school, under the care of Mr. James, is represented as being in a prosperous condition. The whole number of pupils is fifty-five. Twenty-five of these are in the primary department. The Alexander High School is prosperous. One of the more advanced of the pupils has had the principal charge of the Liberia Herald for the greater part of the year, and has managed it, not only with credit to himself, but without allowing it to interfere with his ordinary studies.

Brethren from Foreign Mission fields were requested to narrate their experiences.

Rev. M. S. Culbertson, of the Shanghai Mission, gave briefly the results of his observations in China during the eleven years he has labored in that region. Of the Chinese language, he said it was difficult to learn, but the difficulty is not insuperable, for missionaries learn to preach intelligibly to the people in a year. But the missionary is compelled to learn two languages. One is the spoken language, and the other the written. Dialects differ. There is a dialect of Canton and a dialect of Shanghai. And this difficulty is experiencedby whomever a missionary changes his locality. Besides, there is another difficulty, and it is the great impediment in the way of the missionary work, that the people will not readily acquire a knowledge of written language. One of the things which the missionaries would do would be to reduce the colloquial language to writing, and experiments to this end have already been commenced; still many years must elapse before the work is fully accomplished. The language, however, as written, gives one great advantage. Whenever a book is written or printed, it is understood over the whole extent of the Empire—so that when we translate books, we write for a reader in our track, we know that they are understood wherever they go. In regard to the religion of China, there is a great deal of it—of a certain kind. It is generally considered that Buddhism is atheism, and so it is in some measure; but China is not atheistical, although there is a great deal of that same kind of atheism of which we find some in our own land—consisting in the exclusive worship of mammon. It is a system of humanitarianism, as it were—a worship of self, a worship of ancestors, a worship of human nature. But the principal point of the worship of the Chinese is a deference to superstitions. It was this which produced the greatest effect upon the speaker.

Rev. Andrew P. Happer recommended the Canton Mission. He gave a historical sketch of the Opium War, and the American and French treaties, by which the country was opened to Christian effort. The speaker considered the Chinese race next the Saxon in the race of enterprise and the tendencies to civilization. They are much superior to all other heathen nations. Still they have suffered so greatly at the hands of foreigners, that they hate all foreigners who now come among them, so that the congregations which are gathered by the missionaries are small, and it is no wonder that they are so. Yet these missionaries are not disheartened, downcast; their hands never hang down, neither do their knees strike together with weakness, when they consider these difficulties and troubles through which they are called to pass; and, therefore, from year to year, with increasing love and with increasing life, they continue to hold forth the Word of Life. Still the speaker was free to confess that since his return to this country he had experienced moments of depression and anxiety, occasioned by the apathy which is felt by the Christian public in regard to the condition of that interesting people. He appealed to his Christian brethren, as members of the great Judicatory of the Churches, to Presbyteries and Synods, whether they were doing all they could to send these people the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. It is necessary that our ministers should come forward, and if they cannot go, to send the blessed Gospel to those who have it not.

The next order before the Assembly was the acceptance and adoption of the Report of the Committee on Foreign Missions.

The Report was unanimously adopted.

The Assembly took a recess for half an hour.

JUDICIAL BUSINESS—THE STILLWATER CASE.

Immediately after recess the Assembly resolved to take up the complaint of the Session of Stillwater, N. J., against the Synod of New-Jersey, introduced in the morning.

The Moderator expounded the law applicable to such cases, and urged the importance of the work which lay before the body while it should sit as a Court of Jesus Christ.

The history of this case is as follows: Peter B. Schaffer, an Elder in Stillwater Church, was suspended from Church fellowship upon certain charges, among which were immoral conduct, dishonesty and slander. The slander consisted in stating that his Pastor, Rev. Mr. Condit, was a liar and a thief, that he had stolen a sermon; and that he (Schaffer) did not care to hear a man preach who would steal a sermon. When called to appear to his trial, Mr. Schaffer declined, and was thereupon suspended for contumacy. He appealed to the Presbytery; the Presbytery directed the session to receive him into office, he having declared that no copy of the charges had been served upon him. The Session, upon receiving this notice, from the Presbytery, complained to the Synod of New-Jersey against the Presbytery for interfering in the case, and the Synod sustained the Presbytery. It is against this action of the Synod that the Session complains.

Rev. Mr. Condit appeared upon the platform to state the facts of the case in behalf of Stillwater Church. He was proceeding to state in detail the acts of Session and Presbytery, when—

The Moderator reminded him that the appeal to General Assembly was against the action of Synod, not of Presbytery, and requested him to bring his statements to bear upon that point.

Mr. Condit replied that he was just upon the eve of that statement and went on to show that, in the opinion of Stillwater Session, the Synod of New-Jersey had violated a fundamental principle of the Constitution of the Church.

Judge Fine inquired if it appeared, from the records, that a copy of the charges against Mr. Schaffer had been served upon him?

Mr. Condit read the Minutes of Session, to show that such was the case.

It was then inquired whether these charges were mentioned in the first citation served upon Mr. Schaffer.

Mr. Condit—They were not.

It was then stated that the Synod would be heard through Dr. Dawson, in defence of their decision.

Certain members held that all the members of Synod were entitled to speak in behalf of Synod.

The Moderator stated that all the members of Synod might be admitted to the floor, if they desired.

Rev. Dr. Rice objected that this was not an appeal, but a trial, and moved that it be the sense of the House that the parties in this case are the Synod and the person appealing from the Synod.

Considerable discussion ensued.

Dr. Rice's motion was put and carried, with a few dissentients.

The Moderator now declared that the Assembly was ready to hear the Synod in defence.

Judge Fine moves to adjourn, as the afternoon was only from 4 to 7. He thought that these Judicial cases could not be hurried through; and held that they had not hitherto received the degree of attention which they were entitled to receive.

Rev. Dr. Davison addressed the house. He regretted that his venerable colleague, Dr. McGuffey, was not present to conduct this defence. He desired Assembly to understand that Synod was arraigned here simply for irregularities and informality, and upon points of technicality alone; proceeded to analyze the reasons upon which the complaint was based, and characterized the acts of complainants as disingenuous.

Judge Fine renewed his motion to adjourn to 4½ P. M.

Lost.

Members received invitations to visit the Bible House and the Anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Dr. Leyburn, Stated Clerk, announced that the Bible Society proposed to present to each member of the Assembly a copy of the Book of Psalms, printed in double pica type, the largest type upon which that book has ever been printed. Members will receive these volumes upon application at the Bible House.

The Assembly adjourned, with prayer from the Moderator.

NEW SCHOOL GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

Slavery—Constitutional Powers of the Assembly in regard thereto.

FOURTH DAY.

MONDAY, May 19, 1856.

The Assembly met at 9 A. M., pursuant to adjournment.

On motion it was agreed to dispense with the reading of the roll.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

New Commissioners presented their credentials.

In reference to the

NEXT PLACE OF MEETING,

Mr. Hutchinson, of the North River Presbytery, moved for a reconsideration of the vote selecting Cleveland. He was of opinion that as the Assembly had received invitations from other quarters it would hardly be right to overtax Cleveland. He was desirous, however, of hearing from the Cleveland Delegates before voting.

Rev. J. B. Bittinger, of Cleveland, suggested that the brother through whom the invitation had come should, as an older citizen, speak to the subject.

Mr. Samuel H. Fox said he would only say that the Assembly would be welcomed there with great cordiality.

Mr. Bittinger said he had voted against the appointment of Cleveland because it was possible to exhaust even Western hospitality. He supposed he would be one of a Committee of Arrangements, and as such he would endeavor, of course, to make the Assembly welcome; but, under the circumstances, he thought the selection rather injudicious.

Rev. Dr. Pierce, of Portage, Ohio, asseverated that the hospitality of Cleveland was not exhausted. He thought it would mortify the people there if the Assembly, after selecting that as their next place of meeting by a large majority, should withdraw.

Rev. Dr. Spees, of Milwaukee, moved, in order to settle the matter, that the question be referred to a Committee to report on Tuesday next. In the interval the Committee might communicate by telegraph with Cleveland, and learn what would be the feeling in regard to the matter there.

At this stage of the discussion, Dr. Spees, at the suggestion of the Moderator, moved that this matter be postponed, and that the Assembly take up the order of the day. Carried

REPORTS OF THEOLOGICAL SEMINARIES.

Rev. Dr. Smith reported from the Union Seminary, New-York, that there was $140,000 of an endowment which was to be raised from Churches. The condition of the Seminary was quite satisfactory on the whole. During the past year great progress had been made in education for the ministry. Appropriate action had been taken to bring the students more closely into contact with those by whom their labors were most required.

Rev. Geo. W. Warren, of Cayuga, submitted an oral report from the Auburn Seminary, and at the close of his remarks read the Report of the Faculty which represented the institution as in a flourishing condition. The number of students near in attendance was larger than heretofore; some of them were employed in instructing the convicts in the State Prison. The funds are still inadequate to meet the wants of the establishment. An agent has been employed to raise additional means.

Professor Day, of Cincinnati, Ohio, presented the Report of the Lane Seminary. There were now in it, he said, 81 students, who have manifested an earnest spirit and a settled purpose to meet the wants of the Christian Ministry. Since its foundation, nearly 27 years since, the Seminary has sent forth about 400 young men, many of whom are now laboring in the towns and villages of the West. In order to enable the Seminary to carry out its work of promoting missionary enterprise in the West, it will be necessary to ask a further endowment from the Churches. The present funds at its disposal are merely able to meet the current expenses.

Mr. Lyons, from the Southwestern (Maryville) Seminary, said the institution had not been doing much during the past year. Dr. Anderson, the founder, has been unable to officiate during the past year, and several other Professors had resigned. The students were but five or six. An effort was now being made to increase the endowment and add new Professors to the faculty, and thereby increase the usefulness of the institution generally.

Rev. Dr. Speer, from the Cincinnati Northwestern Seminary, reported that the Directors of this Seminary, now called the "Blackburne Seminary," in honor of its lamented founder, were in possession of 14,500 acres of land purchased by Dr. Blackburne, with money collected by him in the East. About twenty years ago, 16,000 acres had been entered at $1 25 per acre, but since that time 1,500 acres had been sold to pay taxes.

There had been a litigation about the fund, but a compromise perfectly satisfactory to both parties had been effected between the trustees of these lands and the Trustees and Faculty of Illinois College, by which, he believed, all litigation was terminated.

The 14,500 acres now in possession of the Trustees are at present worth $100,000; in five years more they will be worth $150,000. They are to be held in trust until their value has risen to a certain amount, when they are to be sold, and the money used for the purposes of the institution.

The funds for endowment were sufficient, and they should not ask the churches for a dollar, except for the endowment of scholarships. The institution was to be a Presbyterian institution. The President of the Board is a Baptist, the Secretary a Presbyterian, but Baptists, Episcopalians, Congregationalists, and Presbyterians all harmonized, and voted with the utmost unanimity.

Mr. Thos. Turley, of Union, Tenn., called attention to the fact that a new Seminary was now being established in Tennessee, under the auspices of an Eastern minister. This enterprise, he believed, under the influence of Eastern exertion and Southern liberality, would attain a success equal to the warmest anticipations of its friends.

Mr. E. O. Allen, of Albany, in view of the importance of the reports from the Western Seminaries of Blackburne and West Tennessee, moved that the Assembly make a response by referring these reports to a Special Committee. Carried.

The Moderator appointed as such Committee—Drs. Smith, Tindall and Warner, to which, at the suggestion of a Commissioner, Mr. Turley was added.

It was then announced that the next business in order was the NOMINATION OF DELEGATES TO FOREIGN BODIES.

Accordingly, to the General Association of Massachusetts, which was first called, Rev. Professor Day and Rev. Dr. Jos. Painter were nominated.

At the same time it was announced that the delegate having the highest number of votes should be principal, and the next alternate.

The General Associations of Connecticut and New-Hampshire were then called, but no nominations were made in response.

It was then moved by Dr. Pritchard, of Watertown, and seconded, that the matter of the nominations be referred to a Select Committee.

Drs. Jenkins, Adams and Pritchard were appointed by the Moderator.

SYSTEMATIC BENEVOLENCE.

Dr. Asa D. Smith called the attention of the body to a very important movement now going on in Great Britain, in favor of establishing a plan of systematic beneficence. It would be remembered that Rev. Mr. Arthur, when in this country, had addressed a large audience in the Tabernacle on the subject. He was informed by a prominent layman this morning, that Rev. Mr. Cather, from England—a gentleman who had written several works on the subject—was now in this City, and it would be very desirable that the Assembly should hear him. He would move, therefore, that he be invited to address the Assembly on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Parker, Judge Darling, Dr. Brainerd, and Mr. Baldwin, severally expressed their sense of the importance and necessity of the movement.

The discussion had extended to some length, when

Dr. Adams rose to a point of order. The proper time, he said, for treating this topic, was after it had been formally submitted to the Assembly by the gentleman to whom this invitation had been tendered.

The propriety of this intimation was at once perceived, and, on motion of Dr. Fairchild, Dr. Smith was appointed to convey the invitation of the Assembly to Rev. Mr. Cather, and the Secretary of the Systematic Benevolence Society of Philadelphia.

THE NEXT PLACE OF MEETING AGAIN.

Rev. Dr. Spees asked to be allowed to withdraw his motion to refer this subject to a Committee. Leave was granted, and it was withdrawn accordingly.

Rev. Mr. Beecham moved the indefinite postponement of the matter.

Rev. Dr. Mills said the Assembly wanted information about it, and to vote instantaneously for an indefinite postponement was hardly the way to answer the purpose.

Rev. Mr. Fisher hoped the whole question would be reconsidered.

Rev. Mr. Hall did not see the [illegible] of reopening the discussion.

A Commissioner supported the resolution to postpone.

Judge Jessup thought it was too serious for Presbyteries to act on the supposition that the General Assembly should wait for an invitation to go anywhere.

Rev. Mr. Hutchinson withdrew his resolution to reconsider, which left the question as before—that is, Cleveland being still the place chosen.

TREASURERS' REPORT.

The Treasurer of the Assembly submitted his report, exhibiting an aggregate expenditure during the year of $1,669 19, with a balance in favor of the Assembly of $250.

The Report was accepted, on motion of Dr. Duffield, and submitted to an auditing Committee of two.

BILLS AND OVERTURES.

Dr. Duffield, from the Committee of Bills and Overtures, reported the following, with a recommendation to answer it in the affirmative:

Is it consistent for a pastor of a church, the sole ruling elder of said church being removed by death, or otherwise, by and with the consent of said church to receive a member and ruling elder from another church, on certificate, with a view to his subsequent election and installation as ruling elder in the place of the elder deceased?

Dr. Miller moved that the report be accepted, which was seconded, and carried.

Rev. Mr. Gardiner, of Washington, D. C., hoped that the report would not be adopted, at least for the present. He had preached twice yesterday, and to-day was very sick. The question involved this overture was one of paramount importance to his Presbytery, and he trusted the Assembly would postpone the consideration of it for a day or two until he was prepared to debate it.

It was then moved and carried that the report go on the docket.

PUBLICATION COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Rev. Dr. Spencer submitted the Report of the Publication Committee. No Christian Association, he said, had ever such overwhelming motives for placing its sentiments upon record as this, and none was ever in such danger of going down to posterity with its sentiments unknown. The movement in favor of publication had thus far been kindly received by all the great national publication societies with which the Church cooperates. They had now reached that transition period from theory to accomplishment, when, by actual contact with the business in point, we learn both what is to be done and how hard it is to do it. But while thus expected to deal with practical matters, they had few treasured incidents with which to illustrate their worthiness and gain sympathy. Valuable progress had, indeed, been made towards reducing the whole work of denominational publication to thorough and complete system. The Committee, however, had found themselves unexpectedly embarrassed with pecuniary liabilities, and deprived of the necessary resources to meet them, that the work of the press had almost entirely ceased. During the past year there had been published Dr. Albert Barnes' book on the Government of the Church, 1,000 copies; Dr. Lyman Cole's Text book to Bible Geography, 250 copies; Presbyterian Almanac, 10,000 copies; and several thousand copies of tracts and catechisms—the publications amounting in all to 29,250 copies. In regard to the negotiation for a transfer of the copyright of the Church Psalmist to the General Assembly, the report states that frequent allusions to the subject in correspondence and among committees since the matter was first proposed, show the very general prevalence of a desire for uniformity in the matter of psalmody. It appeared the copy-right belonged to Dr. Burns, and the right to publish to Ivison & Phinney. These had represented their willingness to cede their privileges to the General Assembly on the award of three competent and respectable men. The Committee, although clothed with full power to conclude this purchase, did not feel warranted by the state of the funds, in doing so. They fall back, therefore, on the spirit of the second Resolution of the St. Louis Assembly, and recommend that the negotiations be concluded in the manner suggested by the proprietors of the work, so soon as the Committee shall deem it safe and and practicable to do so.

An serious embarrassment might hereafter arise in conducting the operations of this Committee, without an act of incorporation, and, as it would be manifestly improper to make a man who accepts any office of this nature involve himself in personal liabilities in attending to the affairs of the Church, the Committee therefore asked permission to apply to the proper authorities of the State of Pennsylvania for an act of incorporation. It was one of the most remarkable facts in the history of a great enterprise, that their Church should have had a Publication Committee in existence for four years, without making any provision necessary to enable them to carry on their work. This failure had thrown a double burden on the Committee from the very first. Under every disadvantage $6,000 had been secured for the Publication Committee, and about $15,000 for the Presbyterian Rooms, and the greater portion of the large sum had been raised in Philadelphia, by the special efforts of pastors, whilst other causes had been advanced by general presentation.

The report recommended a publication fund, with a fixed capital; the amount would determine the usefulness of the scheme, and the responsibility of the Church which maintained it. The propriety of a simultaneous collection for securing such fund was recommended. The Treasurer's report showed a balance in treasury on the 1st May, 1856, of $256 84.

The report was accepted, and on motion of Dr. Fairchild referred to a Special Committee, which, in compliance with a suggestion by Dr. Mills, was made to consist of nine persons.

It was here announced that the Constitutional Question on Slavery was now in order.

Dr. Duffield moved that it be made the order of the day for 1 o'clock. Carried.

CHURCH VACANCIES.

Dr. Duffield then addressed the Assembly on the necessity, in view of the rapidity with which churches were springing up in every part of the land, and here there were ministers from every part of the Union, of appointing a Committee to receive applications from unemployed ministers.

Dr. Adams, in order to promote the one great object to which all ecclesiastical affairs are subsidient, the true spiritual communion of Christ's ministers, moved that the time between this (12:10) and recess (12:30) be given to devotional exercises, with a free interchange of opinion in regard to the condition of their churches. The motion was seconded, and unanimously adopted.

The Assembly engaged in religious exercises until the hour had arrived for the recess.

AFTER RECESS.

Rev. Dr. Ross, from Committee on the Polity of the Church, reported on the paper submitted by the Brooklyn Presbytery on the subject of assessments for the Commissioners' Fund; that though the plan adopted by the Assembly of 1853 is not liable to all the criticisms of the Brooklyn Presbytery, yet it is imperfect, though good in idea, and recommending that a Special Committee be appointed to perfect it in detail, and then to be sent down to the Presbytery for adoption or rejection; and if it shall be adopted, it will supersede the plan heretofore sanctioned by the Presbytery.

The adoption of this being moved, Rev. Mr. Wisner inquired whether the adoption of it would throw the Church back to the old voluntary theory, during the year before the response of the Presbyteries can be received.

Mr. Otis Allen, thought the proposal of the report did not meet the difficulties suggested by the Brooklyn Presbytery.

It alleges that the Assembly has undertaken to reverse a measure adopted in a constitutional way by an unconstitutional method.

Judge Jessup opposed the reference, as unnecessary. If any change is required, it is the duty of the Committee on the Polity of the Church to propose it.

Rev. Dr. Miller said the objection of the Brooklyn Presbytery was not valid; since the old order on the subject of Slavery was not adopted as an amendment to the Constitution—but it was referred to the Presbyteries merely by way of consultation.

Pending this discussion, the order of the day was taken up, viz:

CONSTITUTIONAL POWERS OF THE ASSEMBLY ON SLAVERY.

Rev. Dr. Asa D. Smith submitted the following:

MAJORITY REPORT.

The Committee appointed by the last General Assembly "to report to the next Assembly on the constitutional power of the Assembly over the subject of slaveholding in our churches," respectfully submit the following Report:

It should be observed, at the outset, that the Committee are instructed to report on but a single point, that of "power." The question before them is not what it may be wise for the Assembly to do. Not what, in a particular case, or in general—authority being presupposed—would be for edification. But what is the power of the Assembly in the matter of slaveholding. This is a question which can be determined only by reference to our Form of Government. The "power" on which we are to report is fully designated as "constitutional." We are a constitutional body. No judicatory of our Church has any legitimate functions save those which, either expressly or by clear implication, the Constitution confers. Emphatically should this be said of our highest judicatory, in view of the tendency of human nature, in ecclesiastical connections, to a creeping and tyrannous centralism. The one-man power at Rome is hardly more abhorrent to the genius of Presbyterianism than would be a many-headed tapacy under the name and form of a General Assembly. It should be remembered, also, that as a visible Church, or particular denomination, our Constitution is the sole bond of our union. We are united, externally and formally, only as that unites us. That, of course, must measure and limit the responsibility for each other which grows out of our union. No one part of our body can be held answerable for evils in another, which, by the terms of our confederation, it has no power to remedy.

The Committee would further remark, that they do not feel themselves called on to present their views of the moral character of Slavery, nor to re-argue the question whether slaveholding is, in any case, a disciplinable offence. They do not suppose that were appointed with reference to that question. It was thought desirable by the Assembly of 1855, and the conclusion reached, "that the holding our fellow men in the condition of Slavery, except in those cases where it is unavoidable by the laws of the State, the obligations of guardianship, or the demands of humanity, is an offence in the proper import of that term, as used in the Book of Discipline, chap. 4, section 3, and should be reasoned and treated in the same manner as other offences." This opinion has been reaffirmed, either expressly or virtually, by nearly every succeeding Assembly, including the last. Nor do the Committee see any reason why one-fourth or one-half of the Assembly should now, or at any other time, change their opinion, in the least, in a retrograde course. The doctrine set forth at Detroit, and forth simply as a doctrine, and not as a law of Christ, is, we believe, to be, ever hence, the settled view of our Church. Taking this for granted, their only concern is with the relation of the Assembly to the matter. To determine this point, we have only to "ascertain what was the understanding of the Convention which framed the Constitution, and the understanding of the ratifying conventions, at the time of their ratification, on the subject of slaveholding, as a matter of church discipline. The meaning of the Constitution is to be ascertained by the usage of the Assembly, in its first years, in the exercise of the power in question, and by the contemporaneous exposition of its friends. Of the meaning of the Constitution, in this respect, the Assembly of 1787, 1788, 1789, 1790, 1791, 1792, 1793, 1794, 1795, 1796, 1797, 1798, 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808, slaveholding is a sin in itself, an abomination in the Decalogue, and therefore beyond the power of the General Assembly of the Church to make slaveholding a matter for discipline, on the ground either that prejudice and slaveholding are synonymous terms, or that the former is a necessary inference from the latter. The motion of Detroit implies that there are cases of slaveholding which are not an offence, either in the sight of God or of man. Conversion, however, is always a sin. It is an act of a rational and responsible agent. No circumstances in which it is practised can justify it. It does not exist, therefore, essentially into slaveholding. Is it proper, then, that the Assembly, as a court of Christ, should make a law, or, in other words, declare that a law of God is not a law? Is it proper, in a Christian Church, to

The Admission of Kansas.

[illegible] a few days since, that [illegible] bill for the immediate admission [illegible] would not become a law:—and [illegible] was probably not introduced with any expectation that it would prove successful. We [illegible] this as intimating that Senator Seward himself did not wish or design it to pass, while some of the most strabilious of our Republican friends assert that it can be passed, and that any one who does not think so,—especially if he ventures to think aloud,—must be a traitor to the cause of Human Freedom.

[illegible] of Kansas under the Topeka Constitution could be decided upon its merits, [illegible] to consequences, we have no [illegible] in saying we should oppose it. The [illegible] upon the face of it is irregular:—and if some harm would not be done by insisting on regularity then by waiving it for the present, we should favor a rejection of the [illegible] and compel Kansas to seek admission under the authority and with the prescribed sanction of Congress. In this case, as we understand it, the application comes from a Convention of delegates elected at the call of a [illegible] act of Congress or the Territorial Legislature, and by the votes of only a portion of the inhabitants. The citizens of Kansas who called it acted in entire contempt of all formally constituted authority:—their action was outside of all Government and was a simple exercise of the power inherent in every society where there is no law. Now our theory of the relations of a Territory to the United States does not permit us to regard such action as legitimate. We believe Congress has sovereignty over the territories,—that the people of the territories are bound to obey the laws of Congress;—and that any action outside of those laws and in contempt of their authority is illegitimate and revolutionary. And we are no more willing to tolerate disorder and revolution in a Territory than we would be in a State. It is said, we are aware, that Michigan was admitted upon the application of a Convention called without Congressional authority. This is true;—but (1) that authority had been twice asked for and refused, and was usurped, therefore, from necessity;—(2) the territory of Michigan was part of that embraced in the ordinance of 1787, which expressly declared that its people should be at liberty to form a permanent Constitution and State Government," and should be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original States;—and (3) its admission was carried by a party vote, against the votes of the great body of the Whigs, with Mr. CLAY at their head in the Senate, and JOHN QUINCY ADAMS in the House. We do not regard the case of Michigan, therefore, as a precedent which should, under ordinary circumstances, be considered with us,—although the whole Democratic Party then took ground precisely opposite to that which they hold at present.

But the case of Kansas cannot be decided upon these grounds without involving the risk of great injustice. The conduct of the Administration has taken it out of the ordinary course of things, and made necessary extraordinary remedies for the evils it has created. Through its connivance Kansas has been invaded and conquered by the ruffian hordes whom Slavery has enlisted in its service. They have driven the Government of the Territory out of the hands of the people, and have imposed upon them laws of their own brutal and unjust enactment. And the power of the Federal Government is pledged to their enforcement. Under these circumstances Kansas must either be admitted into the Union at once, or her people must take the chance of a Missouri mob, backed by the armies of the nation. It is hard that the necessity of choosing between such alternatives should be forced upon us. It is hard that we cannot maintain our regard for the forms of the Constitution, without surrendering the rights and liberties of a rising State to the insolence and brutal violence of a Pro-Slavery mob. But there is no evading the issue. Kansas ought to be admitted at once, in spite of all the irregularities of her application, because this is the only way by which the rights of her people can be secured. And it is the duty of every man in Congress, who appreciates the state of things in Kansas, and who desires to save her people from the foreign Pro-Slavery [illegible]

[illegible] do everything in his power to promote that end.

It is with this view, beyond all doubt, that Senator SEWARD has introduced his bill. That he wishes it to pass, and intends to pass it, if possible, it would be absurd to doubt. Whether it pass or not, it was none the less his duty to introduce it, and to labor for its enactment. But that it will pass, neither he nor anybody else can well believe. With a Senate and a President pledged to the extension of Slavery at all hazards and in all ways:—with these two departments of the Government, that have shown their willingness to repudiate the most solemn covenants, that have acquiesced in the invasion of Kansas and the destruction of the rights and liberties of her people, and that have finally pledged themselves to use the whole power of the Government to compel obedience to the enactments of invaders, we certainly can see no ground for even pretending to hope for the passage of such a bill. They have hitherto hesitated at no extremity of outrage and wrong, that seemed necessary to force Slavery upon Kansas, against the will of her people. What reason have we to suspect that they are now about to back out from all this—to relinquish the prize as they get nearer to it, and to permit Kansas to come as a Free State into the Union? It is hinted that the House of Representatives may force them into such a course, by withholding the supplies. But we cannot see why the Senate should care any more for supplies than the House; and we certainly do not believe that a majority of that body will relinquish their purpose to force Slavery into Kansas, under any such pressure. They are in earnest in their determination to make Kansas a Slave State; and they are no more to be driven from it by threats of stopping the supplies, than their opponents are from their purposes by threats of disunion.

While, therefore, we have no hope whatever that Kansas can be admitted as a Free State at the present session of Congress, we trust that every member of both Houses will have an opportunity to vote upon it. The people will be glad to learn precisely where every representative stands upon this subject. They will then be able to take more effectual steps to accomplish hereafter what ought to be done without delay.

The Affair of the Eurydice.

The extraordinary statement of our Special Washington Correspondent, in his letter published yesterday, that the interference of the British man-of-war Eurydice with the steamer Orizaba at Greytown, on her last trip out, was at the instance of certain parties, Americans, in this City, connected with the late Nicaragua Transit Company, is not, thus far, denied here. That these parties, citizens of the United States, should by secret messenger, dispatched on the Orizaba, invoke the aid, by force, of a British naval commander, to prevent the landing, and if practicable, the transit, of the passengers going out by a rival line, would appear to be almost too incredible for belief, were it not that the sending out of an agent, with admitted general, if not the specific, instructions referred to, remains unquestioned. A partial, but certainly unsatisfactory explanation, may be attempted by claiming that the parties, believing themselves deeply wronged by the Walker Government, had the right to resume their transports on the Isthmus of Nicaragua, and to deny their use to either fillibusters or California passengers going out on the Orizaba, and to effect this they felt justified in using their influence with any or all naval vessels that might be found at Greytown or Puenta Arenas—the British Eurydice included.

We make no further comment on this than to say that the public should be careful, in the present state of our Foreign relations, not to give hasty credence to every rumor from Central America of British interference until the whole story is told. In this instance the real facts come out, as it were, by the merest accident. The declaration of the master of the Orizaba, filed at Washington, whether so designed or not, we will not undertake to say, was merely a cover to the very equivocal action of certain steamship gentlemen, who, with the utmost professed detestation of fillibustering, and the violation of the neutrality laws, took the fearful responsibility of putting at hazard the peace of the country, by seeking British naval intervention as against a rival line.

The Nicaragua Correspondence.

We publish in another part of this morning's TIMES the balance of the official correspondence communicated to Congress on Nicaraguan affairs. This portion of the correspondence comprises a series of important dispatches from Minister WHEELER justifying the course he pursued in recognizing the Rivas-Walker Government. The letters from Mr. WHEELER of subsequent date refer to the political condition of Nicaragua, the war now pending with Costa Rica, and the recent massacre, by the authority of the Government of that Republic, of those American citizens who had joined the opposite side. In the correspondence which we publish, there will be found a letter from Padre VIJIL urging upon our Government his right to be recognized as minister from Nicaragua. The whole—including the dispatches that appeared in yesterday's TIMES—gives a complete history of our relations with Nicaragua during the past six months.

Not Yet.

The case of the British Minister was again under consideration by the Cabinet at Wash*ington, yesterday*, but it appears that all the documents that had been laid before Parliament, touching his conduct, had not yet been received, so the extreme point has not been determined upon, and he hangs by his eyelids a while longer. The Cabinet meet again to-day to consider the case further. This hesitation and deliberation deprive the affair of half its seriousness, and the public will very soon begin to regard it with anything but a feeling of apprehension, and Mr. CRAMPTON, if he be the sort of person to enjoy a joke, must be excessively amused at the speculations which his case has elicited. He never is, but always is,

CASS VS. CRAMPTON.

Mr. CASS stated that he should ask leave when a convenient opportunity presented itself to state that he had been misunderstood in certain correspondence, by Mr. CRAMPTON, with the British Government.

MR. SUMNER ON KANSAS AFFAIRS.

Mr. SUMNER then commenced speaking on Kansas affairs. He said, in substance:

You are now called to redress a great transgression, in which is involved not only the liberty of a distant territory, but the peace of the whole country. Against Kansas a crime has been committed without parallel in the records of the past—worse than anything done by VERRES against Sicily. Are you against sacrilege? I present it for your execration. Are you against robbery? I hold it up to your scorn. Are you for the protection of American citizens? I show you how their dearest rights have been cloven down, while a tyrannical usurpation has sought to install itself on their very necks! The wickedness which I expose is immeasurably aggravated by the motive which prompted it. For the sake of political power has force been openly employed in compelling Kansas to the pollution of Slavery. There is the simple fact, which you may vainly attempt to deny; but which in itself presents a wickedness that makes other public crimes seem like public virtues. This crime hazards civil war. Already the muster has begun. Even now, while I speak, the fury of the propagandists of Slavery and the calm determination of their opponents are diffused from the distant Territory, and the whole country foreshadows a strife, which, unless happily averted by the triumph of Freedom, will become war—fratricidal, parricidal war, with an accumulated wickedness beyond the wickedness of any war in human annals. Such is the crime which you are to judge; and the criminal is the Slave Power of the Republic. Justice to Kansas can only be secured by the prostration of this influence—for this is the power behind, greater than any President, which succors and sustains the crime.

I have divided my subject under three heads: The crime against Kansas, the apologies for the crime, and the true remedy. But before entering upon the argument, I must say something in response to what has fallen from Senators who have raised themselves to eminence upon this floor in championship of human wrongs. I mean the Senator from South Carolina, (Mr. BUTLER,) and the Senator from Illinois, (Mr. DOUGLAS,) who, though unlike as Don Quixote and Sancho Panza, yet, like this couple, rally forth together in the same cause. The Senator from South Carolina believes himself a chivalrous knight, with sentiments of honor and courage. He has chosen a mistress, who, though ugly to others, is always lovely to him, though polluted in the sight of the world is chaste in his sight. I mean the harlot, Slavery. For her his tongue is always profuse in words. Let her be impeached in character, or any proposition made to shut her out from the extension of her wantonness, and no extravagance of manner or hardihood of assertion is then too great for this Senator. If Slavery cannot have full power in the National Territories—power to compel fellow-men to unpaid toil, to separate husband and wife, to sell little children at the auction block—then, Sir, this chivalric Senator will conduct the State of South Carolina out of the Union. Heroic Knight! Exalted Senator! A second Moses come for a second exodus! This Senator calls the opponents of slave extension "sectional" and "fanatical." The men who strive to bring back the Government to its original policy, when Freedom, not Slavery, was National, he arraigns as "sectional." I affirm that the Republican Party of the Union is in no just sense sectional, but more than any other party National, and that it goes forth to dislodge from the high places of the Government, the tyrannical sectionalism of which the Senator from South Carolina is one of the maddest zealots. As to fanaticism, I will not deny that there are persons among us loving liberty too well for their personal good in a selfish generation. In calling them fanatics you cast contumely upon the noble army of martyrs from the earliest day down to this hour; upon the great tribunes of human rights, by whom life, liberty and happiness on earth have been secured. As the Senator from South Carolina is the Don Quixote, the Senator from Illinois is the squire of Slavery, ready to do all its humiliating offices. The Senator copies the British officer, who, with boastful swagger, said that with the hilt of his sword he would cram the stamps down the throats of the American people. The Senator dreams that he can subdue the North. How little that Senator knows himself or the cause which he persecutes! He is but a mortal man; against him is an immortal principle. With infinite power he wrestles with the infinite, and must fail. Against him are stronger battalions than any marshaled by mortal arm—the inborn, ineradicable, invincible sentiments of the human heart; against him is Nature in all her subtle forces; against him is God. Let him try to subdue these.

Mr. SUMNER then spoke of the origin and extent of the crime against Kansas, reviewing the history of the Missouri Compromise, its abrogation, and the efforts made to plant Slavery in the Territory after the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska act. In this connection he alluded to the course of DAVID R. ATCHISON, calling him the connecting link between the President and the border ruffian. At the session of Congress succeeding the passage of the Nebraska bill he came tardily to his duty; then, after a short time, disappeared. Like CATALINE, he stalked into this chamber reeking with conspiracy; then, like CATALINE, he skulked away to join and provoke the conspirators who at a distance awaited their congenial chief. Mr. SUMNER, after showing how the Territory was overrun and finally subjugated to the slave power, proceeded to the second head of his remarks—the apologies which have been made for the crime. As the crime cannot be denied, apologies are made, but they are worse than the efforts at denial. In cruelty and heartlessness they identify their authors with the great transgression. They are first, the apology tyrannical; second, the apology imbecile; third, the apology absurd; fourth, the apology infamous. That is all. Tyranny, imbecility, absurdity and infamy, all unite to dance, like the weird sisters, about this crime. The first is the apology of technicality, founded on the mistaken act of Governor REEDER. The second is the apology of imbecility, founded on the alleged want of power in the President to arrest this crime. The third, the apology absurd, is founded upon the discovery of the Constitution of a Society called the Kansas Legion—a Society which existed only on paper. Yet its oaths have been quoted on this floor in order to extenuate the crime against Kansas. The fourth, the apology infamous, is founded on false testimony against the Emigrant Aid Society, and assumptions of duty more false than the testimony. Defying truth and and mocking decency, this apology exists only in futility and audacity, while, from its utter hollowness, it proves the utter impotence of the conspirators to defend their crime. An Association of sincere benevolence, faithful to the Constitution and the laws, whose only fortifications are hotels, school houses and churches; whose only weapons are saw-mills, tools and books; whose mission is peace and good will, has been falsely assailed on this floor, and an errand of blameless virtue has been made the pretext for an unpardonable crime. Mr. SUMNER then reviewed the history of the Aid Society, showing that it was organized before the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska act, simply for the purpose of directing emigration to Kansas, and aiding in providing accommodations for emigrants after arriving at their places of destination. He explained the objects of the Society, and denied in toto the charges which Pro-Slavery Senators had brought against it. The Company has never supplied arms of any kind to any person; has not chosen its emigrants on account of their political opinions; and has not even the honor of being an Abolition Society or of numbering Abolitionists among its officers.

Mr. SUMNER continued at length to speak in defence of the Emigrant Aid Society; and had not concluded when the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

AID FOR THE CAPE DE VERDE SUFFERERS.

The House took up Mr. WHEELER's joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to dispatch a vessel with provisions privately contributed for the Cape de Verde sufferers.

Mr. KELLY referred to the liberality of New-York in aiding the starving people, appealing to the generous sympathy of the House to pass the resolution, which asked for no appropriation of money.

Mr. SMITH, of Virginia, while deeply feeling for their distressed condition, was not willing, even in this hitting particular, to usurp a power not guaranteed by the Constitution. He considered the sending of a ship equivalent to the appropriation of money for that purpose.

Adopted by 126 against 24.

THE KANSAS MURDERS.

Mr. GALLOWAY asked leave to introduce a resolution, requesting the President to inform the House whether he has information concerning the murder of three American citizens, named DOW, BARBER and BROWN, late residents of Kansas, and whether legal measures have been taken for the prosecution of the murderers; also, whether he has information regarding the forcible abduction of WILLIAM PHILLIPS, and of his being carried across to Missouri, and there tarred and feathered; likewise with regard to the outrage on Rev. PARKER BURLINGAME, who was tarred and feathered at Atchison; also with regard to the shooting of Mr. MACE, whom an attempt was made to kill, after he had given testimony before the House Investigating Committee; and whether legal steps have been taken for the prosecution of the persons engaged in these outrages. Also, that the President inform the House whether he has issued special instructions for the protection of American citizens in Kansas from violence and murder.

Mr. SMITH, of Va., suggested, and Mr. GALLOWAY agreed to add, a clause calling for information relative to the murder of Sheriff JONES.

Mr. GIDDINGS—Better wait till he is dead.

Mr. BUFFINTON opposed to such a string of nonsense, and objected to its reception.

Mr. GALLOWAY moved a suspension of the rules, in order that he might introduce the resolution.

The motion to suspend was lost—108 in favor to 5 against—not two-thirds.

[illegible] a suspension of the rules, to offer a resolution for the adjournment of Congress on the 5th of August.

Negatived—88 against 67.

SURVEY OF HARLEM RIVER.

Mr. WHEELER introduced a bill making an appropriation for the survey of Harlem River.

Adjourned.

The Steamer James Parks burned on the Ohio.

CHICAGO, Saturday, May 17.

The steamer James Parks, from Pittsburg to Hannibal, Mo., and a lumber-barge in tow, were burned when near Cairo, at the junction of the Mississippi. The steamer was loaded with railroad iron and lumber. No lives were lost, but the boat, barge and cargo were totally lost—partially insured.

Burton's Theatre.

That most charming little actress, Miss AGNES ROSSMORE, made her appearance here last night, in the first of a short series of performances. The perfect grace and admirable finish of this lady's acting make it always exhilarating. It is spontaneous, unconventional, and lighted up with sparkling humor and naturalness. Miss ROSSMORE played, last night, in "Andy Blake" (ably assisted by Mrs. HOWES and Mr. GOURLAY) and the "Young Actress." All the songs in the latter piece were vehemently encored—a just recognition of the musical ability with which they were given. Miss ROSSMORE will appear every night this week.

THE GREAT WEST IN 1856.
THE STATES AND TERRITORIES
OF
THE GREAT WEST,
INCLUDING
OHIO, INDIANA, ILLINOIS, MISSOURI, MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, IOWA, KANSAS, AND NEBRASKA.
WITH
Geography, History, Advantages, Resources and Prospects; comprising their Local History, Institutions and Laws.
Giving a Table of Distances, and the most Direct Routes and Modes of Conveyance; also, pointing out the Best Districts for Agricultural, Commercial, Lumbering, and Mining Operations.
BY JACOB FRESS.
In one volume, with a New and Accurate Map, embracing each of the above States and Territories, and numerous Illustrations. About 325 pages, 12mo, cloth. Price $1 25.
THE GREAT WEST is emphatically THE BOOK for the general reader and the business and pleasure-traveler, as it accurately delineates the localities in which capital and enterprise can most profitably be employed, and those in which the tourists are most interested. It is the book for those who have homes or friends, or interests in the West, and is, therefore, interesting to all, as the West is now intimately connected by business interests or by family ties with every portion of the civilized world.
This book also supplies a great deficiency in our literature. Most other books upon the West are confined to some limited range of country, and are filled either with adventures across the plains and over the mountains, or with details of more local interest. But this takes a comprehensive view of THE WHOLE WEST.
The author possesses a rare experience of the West, having visited almost every part of it this side of the Rocky Mountains, to obtain a knowledge of the country, the progress of settlements, and the manners of the people.
Ready May 20, and for sale by all Booksellers, News and Traveling Agents, to whom liberal terms are offered.

IRVING—DICKENS—THACKERAY,
AND
THE SPARROWGRASS PAPERS.
Says the Home Journal, in an article comparing Irving, Dickens and Thackeray with the author: "We trust we may not seem to go beyond the record of this coterie of American and English authors, if we rank among them, thus early, the name of Frederick S. Cozzens, the author of the 'Sparrowgrass Papers.' He possesses very many of the characteristics delineated in the above class of writers. There is, in his productions, the same ease in theirs, that living underflow of good nature and good sense which infuses a sweetness and lovingness into all his language."
Says the Buffalo Daily Express: "Mr. Cozzens' fun is not of the rollicking sort; it is quiet and refined, calling for no boisterous recognition, but irresistibly appealing to the inmost sense of humor in the reader. Yet, Mr. Irving remarked, within a short time, that he had read nothing in many years over which he had so heartily laughed, as over the imaginary misfortunes of the Sparrowgrass family. Indeed that Nestor of American literature passes a very high estimate upon the talent of Mr. Cozzens, and, as we know, spoke of him to Mr. Thackeray as the most promising of young America's writers."
THE SPARROWGRASS PAPERS.
Is for sale by all booksellers.

THE GREATEST BEVERAGE IN THE WORLD—KNAPP'S EXTRACT OF ROOTS FOR MAKING HIS CELEBRATED ROOT BEER.—The proprietor of this delicious and healthy beverage, would inform his friends and the public generally, that he now manufactures an extract from the ingredients of which his Root Beer is compounded, called the CONCENTRATED EXTRACT OF ROOTS, and that those who cannot obtain it from the fountain at his old establishment, No. 362 Hudson-street, can now at a trifling expense and very little trouble prepare it from this extract, possessing all the flavor and medicinal qualities of that made in the original way. Druggists, hotel-keepers, masters of vessels, root beer makers, proprietors of saloons and private families, will find it to their advantage to use this invaluable compound, as it will insure them at all times, not only a fresh, healthy and delicious beverage, but much cheaper than can be procured in any other way. It is put up in bottles at 25 cents and 50 cents each, sufficient to make 10 and 25 gallons of beer. For medicinal qualities and pleasantness, this beverage is not excelled by any other, which thousands who have used it for the last twenty years can testify. It not only serves a purifier to the blood, but is an excellent table drink, and is also a good drink for invalids. General Depot, No. 362 Hudson-st., New-York. N. B.—A liberal discount to the trade.

Having the exclusive control and direction of the movement of trains on which the business is done, they will be able to avail themselves of the privilege of giving unusual dispatch to articles forwarded by their express to stations along the line of their road or its connecting branches.

The decline in the foreign exchanges continues general and constant. The drain of specie for export shipment early in the week has been partially offset by the income from California at the very close. The Banks, in consequence, start upon the new average with a larger sum in Specie than have shown. The Sub-Treasury disbursements to-day are nearly $200,000 ahead of the receipts. The warrants under the Deficiency bill, just signed by the President, begin to appear, to which will be added week after next the liquidation of the Texas Indemnity. The Boston shipment on Wednesday will scarcely reach the amount by the corresponding steamer last May, $638,000. The present engagements are $600,000. Sterling Bills are rather inactive thus far at 109¾@⅞@110. There is a good request for France at 5.16¼, supplied mainly by the Agent of ROTHSCHILD, who is the principal shipper of Bullion. But the attention of Wall-street to-day was almost wholly diverted from the Money Market, which works comfortably, and the Bank Statement which is satisfactory, to the Foreign political rumors from Washington. These have further affected, adversely, the Stock Exchange 1@1¼ ⅌ cent. and the sales of the Road Stocks, at the close, were pretty free and general at the decline. In addition to the registered sales, there was said to be taken 5,000 shares of Erie, by a leading operator on the Bear side, on private terms. The closing bid was 54⅝; New-York Central, 88⅞@88¾; Reading, 86⅞@86¾; Michigan Southern, 92¾@93; Rock Island, 89; Toledo, 72¾; Illinois Bonds, 85⅞@86; Panama shares offered at 98. The rumors referred to have not yet taken official shape; they refer wholly to the pending difficulties with Mr. CRAMPTON, the British Minister, and we have reason to believe that several days, perhaps a week, will yet transpire before the answer of the Secretary of State to Lord CLARENDON's dispatch of 30th April is prepared. The prevailing sentiment in the Street is, that if this should even be accompanied by a tender of passports to Mr. CRAMPTON, the effect has already been mainly anticipated, and that the peculiar position of the question—coupled with the more recent developments of Mr. CRAMPTON's obnoxious indiscretion in communicating to his Government private conversations with certain distinguished Senators and Cabinet Ministers, which were wholly misrepresented—admits of no other satisfactory solution. The amicable tone which is said to pervade the last dispatch of Lord CLARENDON, even while declining to withdraw this mischievous and bungling ambassador, and which we are quite sure will be reciprocated by Mr. MARCY in availing of the other alternative—not without various safe precedents in diplomatic intercourse—greatly diminishes the probability of any serious difficulty to grow out of the question; if indeed the chances of war between two such Governments can be said, in the existing condition of their commercial intercourse, to amount to a probability; which few sensible people believe.

A more imposing ground of apprehension, the possibility of an accidental or rash conflict with the British man-of-war Eurydice, stationed off San Juan, has been removed to-day by the explanation—not very creditable to the managers of the late Nicaragua Transit Company in this City—of the interference of the commander with the Orizaba, on her first trip out. It is reported from Washington, by the Special Correspondent of the DAILY TIMES, and the substance of the charge in his letter of this morning, not denied here, that a secret messenger was sent out by the Transit people with instructions to call upon the British Naval officer, referred to, and request his interference as against the managers of and passengers by the new line, and that the presence of this messenger or agent, on the Orizaba, was known to the master of that steamer, although, subsequently on his return to New-York, he filed a formal complaint against the Eurydice with the State Department at Washington! The same agent probably had instructions to withhold the further use of the River and Lake transports in Nicaragua in the transportation of passengers or goods; which the late Company had the right to do, if they could. It is quite likely that this is the last effort of the Company to cross the Walker Government, and that the better part of valor, discretion, will hereafter be shown, if WALKER sustains himself, by combining interests with MORGAN and RANDOLPH, and thus paving the way to the restoration of the route and charter, as they existed before WALKER interfered. The partial recognition of his authority at Washington not only renders this practicable, but will remove one of the motives to the revocation of the charter, which undoubtedly was the refusal of Mr. MARCY to receive the first minister of the new Government, and the apprehension that VANDERBILT and WHITE, in alliance with the Panama interest and the Administration at Washington, might draw off the line, as they had already interfered to stop recruits from the United States.

The Mayor this evening nominated to the Board of Aldermen Mr. A. W. STOUT, President of the Shoe and Leather Bank, as Chamberlain of the City. The nomination goes over to a future meeting. The capital of the Bank with which the nominee is connected is $800,000, to be shortly increased, we have heard, to a million of dollars.

At a meeting of the Clearing-House Association, to-day, the application of the Park Bank for admission was referred to the appropriate Committee, without debate. Mr. KNAPP, of the Mechanics' Bank, is the Chairman of the Committee on the admission of new members.

The Sub-Treasury received to-day $117,551; paid on Treasury drafts, $264,877; and on the checks of Disbursing Officers, $36,599. The regular balance this afternoon is $10,008,007.

Money Circular for Europe.

(Translated Extract.)

NEW-YORK, Monday, May 19, 1856.

The same features as noticed in our last circular of 12th inst.—very limited transactions and lower prices—have characterized the week's business. The heavy export of Specie by the Persia, though without immediate effect upon prices generally, still prevented any active speculation, and a general feeling of uneasiness in regard to our relations with Great Britain also kept buyers out of the market, which leaves off with a decided downward tendency. The fluctuations have been trifling up to Saturday, excepting Panama, which declined 5 ⅌ cent., under the apprehension that the recent accident on the road might result in some considerable losses to the Company. To-day the decline was general, on the rumors of the dismissal of the British Minister to Washington. Money has been less active than during the previous week, and the supply in all cases equal to the demand. The foreign orders for our Stocks remain very limited, and probably will not increase so long as the rates of interest in England and on the continent remain as high as at present. Exchange firm; limited transactions on London, 109¾@109⅞; Paris, 5 17½@5.16¼.

Money Circular for Europe.

(Translated Extract.)

NEW-YORK, Monday, May 19, 1856.

Nothing of interest has occurred in our Stock market during the past week up to this day. Money has been in less active demand without imparting any improvement in Stocks. The same inaction in securities for permanent investment noticed in our last advices exists yet, and the disposition to operate in speculative stocks has decreased. To-day, reports from Washington lead to the fear that the English Ambassador may soon be tendered his passports. These rumors, in the already unsettled state of our market, have affected it very markedly. Money is a little less inquired for—7 ⅌ cent. for loans on call, 9@10 ⅌ cent. for business paper, according to length. Exchanges on Europe in less demand, without material changes in rates. London, 109¾@109⅞; Paris, 5.16¼@5.17½.
